

Women's Implantology Network WIN
WIN EMEA Summit.
March 8 – 9, 2019, Valletta Malta

WIN summit EMEA region

The Women's Implantology Network (WIN) was founded by leading women in implantology with Straumann as sponsor. The network wants to globally engage women in implant dentistry and empower them to advance to leadership roles.

Strengthening the WIN community in the EMEA region

In a survey amongst more than 250 female dentists in various EMEA countries, 65 % responded that they would like to dive deeper into the field of dental implantology even though the majority of the survey participants did already place an implant. This inspired us to offer a dedicated WIN Summit for EMEA, fostering and strengthening the WIN community in this region.

WIN – Inspire, engage, be part of the change

With the increasing global numbers of graduating women dentists and implants placed, there is an urgent need to ensure that a representative proportion of women colleagues become involved in implant therapy. Sponsored by Straumann, a group of leading women in implantology sharing the same ambition met and founded the women implantology network, WIN.

We are committed to inspire and engage our female colleagues to be part of the change needed to establish adequate patient access to both provision and supportive treatment for implants. We will enable this change through a growing global community with representation from practice and academia, education and research. At local, national and international levels, WIN fosters confidence, creates visibility and supports progress in all different areas of engagement in implant dentistry.
